The Killing of Umm Qirfa by Prophet Mohammed
(Jumadi, 628 AD)
Umm Qirfa, Fatima bint Rabia bin Badr, was the proud chieftain of the Bani Bara'i Arab tribe.
Umm Qirfa was a very old lady and a symbol of tribal pride and honor. Her tribe had 300 men, 100 horses, 200 camels and 5000 sheep from their leading long in the house.
Dr. Ghulam Sarwar Husseini, Muhammad ordered his ex-adopted son, Zaid, to go to Umm Qirfa's tribe and kill her in the name of Allah. Zaid was Muhammad's adopted son, Zaid bin Harithah, and he was called "Zaid the Beloved" and "Zaid the Pious" by Muhammad.
Zaid, Bani Kalb and a few men from Muhammad's tribe, Quraish, gathered together and rode to the Bani Bara'i tribe.
Muslims were against the idea of a woman possessing a tribe and a woman being a chieftain. Muhammad said, "Women are not equal" and made Zaid, Bani Kalb, Bani Quraish and a few men, Muslims, to kill Umm Qirfa.
The most modern Muhammad ordered the attack was because he was jealous of Umm Qirfa's tribe and wanted to take it for himself. He acknowledged his jealousness in the following Sahih Bukhari Hadith:
